

CALLING ALL ACOUSTIC MUSICIANS!

ARE YOU LOOKING FOR REGULAR, PAID GIGS?

Live Music Now, the UK's leading musician development and outreach charity, is recruiting new soloists and bands.

LMN offers training and paid performance opportunities to emerging professional musicians. Our scheme helps musicians kickstart their careers and engage with a wide variety of audiences.

Our musicians perform for audiences who would not normally get the chance to experience live music. Each year we provide over 3,000 interactive performances for older people in care homes and for children with special educational needs across the UK.

We are looking for brilliant artists at the start of their careers, who communicate well with audiences. If this sounds like you, register your interest online:

www.livemusicnow.org.uk/request_an_application_form

The deadline for audition applications is Friday 27th September 2013, and auditions will be held in central London on Monday 4th November 2013.

"What LMN gives you as a young musician is not just a stepping stone but a whole way of thinking and expressing yourself that will stay with you throughout your musical life"
